And Then What Happened?

Finish each word problem by writing a sentence that makes it into a multiplication problem. Write a multiplication sentence to solve the problem. Then write the answer in a complete sentence. The first one has been started for you.

1. Caitlin has a puppy named Cubby Bear. Each day she brushes Cubby Bear for 5 minutes.

   How many minutes does Caitlin brush Cubby Bear in 1 week?

   Multiplication sentence: _____________________________________________________________________

   Answer: ________________________________________________________________________________

2. Alexis earns money by doing lawn work. Alexis is paid $4 for every lawn she mows.

   ______________________________________________________________________________________

   ______________________________________________________________________________________

   Multiplication sentence: _____________________________________________________________________

   Answer: ________________________________________________________________________________

3. John is having a party. He is going to give each person 2 party favors.

   ______________________________________________________________________________________

   ______________________________________________________________________________________

   Multiplication sentence: _____________________________________________________________________

   Answer: ________________________________________________________________________________