

PASSAGE PICKER

Name:

Date:

Book:

Reading Assignment:

Your Job: Your job is to locate at least 3 special sections of the text that you you're your group would like to hear READ ALOUD or to REREAD silently. The idea is to help readers go back to some especially INTERESTING, POWERFUL, FUNNY, PUZZLING or IMPORTANT sections from the reading. As you read, use sticky notes to mark your selections. When you finish reading, choose three sections to be shared in your next discussion. Select different ways for rereading during the discussion.

LOCATION	REASON FOR PICKING	PLAN FOR DISCISSION
Page # and Quote	~ Literary devices: simile, metaphor, personification, hyperbole, allusion ~ Sound Techniques: alliteration, rhyme, rhythm, meter ~ Other: conflict, irony, foreshadowing, flashback, funny, Puzzling, interesting, important, powerful, etc.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Passage picker reads aloud • Ask someone else to read aloud • Everyone reads the section silently, then discusses

Discussion Directions: When it is your turn, have the members locate the first passage they are to discuss. Reread the selection using your plan for discussion. Have the group hypothesize why you selected that section and support it with the information from the text. Finally, tell them your reason for selecting the passage.

PASSAGE PICKER

Discussion Directions: When it is your turn, have the members locate the first passage they are to discuss. Reread the selection using your plan for discussion. Have the group hypothesize why you selected that section and support it with the information from the text. Finally, tell them your reason for selecting the passage.