Pennsylvania Seal of Biliteracy

The Pennsylvania Seal of Biliteracy is an award presented to graduating seniors by their school in recognition of students who show proficiency in English and one or more world languages by high school graduation.

The Pennsylvania Seal of Biliteracy:

- ✔ Provides future employers with a means of identifying candidates with biliteracy skills
- ✔ Provides colleges and universities with a method to recognize applicants with high proficiency in a world language
- ✔ Enables students to be college, career, and community ready in a global society
- ✔ Affirms and values the linguistic and cultural diversity many students bring to the classroom and workplace
- ✔ Encourages partnerships with higher education, businesses, and community organizations to increase language learning opportunities in the 21st century global economy

How does a student qualify for this award?

- ✔ Demonstrate intermediate high proficiency on approved world language and English language assessments
- ✔ Demonstrate multi-cultural competence through two or more languages
- ✔ Meet the school's graduation requirements
